Neil Brown, a Democrat, Honors Spooner--Minneapolis Times Says Nation
Must Have Him.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Wausau, Wis., Oct. 30.—Senator Spooner spoke here last night before a large and enthusiastic meeting and was introduced to the audience by State Senator Kreutzer who directly repudiated Governor La Fol-lette's attack both upon himself and upon Senator Spooner as unwarranted and improper. After opening address called forth repeated applause and was a well worded and carefully prepared statement of the facts they stand and what would be the result of the legislation of the coming legislature were 'La Follette's advice followed.

Must Have Spooner.
The Minneapolis Times has a strong editorial in which it bitterly denounces Governor La Follette's policy of repudiating Spooner because he does not please him and states that it is not a question of Wisconsin politics but that the United States at large is interested and demands his return to the senate of the United States.

Praise From Democrat.
Neal Brown, the democratic speaker has come out flatfooted in praise of Senator Spooner and his work in the senate and urged his claim of the senatorship if the republicans win this fall. Neal Brown was a candidate for governor nomination.

Three People Perish in Flames Which Destroy Farmhouse.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 30.—Three people, two brothers and one sister, perished in a fire which destroyed the Wickinson farm house, four miles south of this city at three o'clock this morning. The dead are William Wickinson, aged 42; Albert Wickin-son, aged 40 and Julia Wickinson, aged 31. They were supposed to have had considerable money in the house and it is believed that they were murdered and robbed, after which the

LONDON OPPOSES TUBE SYSTEM PLAN

House of Commons Takes Steps to End Fight Between the Two American Syndicates.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
London, Oct. 30.—The House of Commons has rejected the latest proposition for a tube system in the city and has asked for a reconsideration of the Yorker plan as opposed to the J. Pierpont Morgan one. The opinion of the council seems to be against the acceptance of the Morgan plan. The Morgan syndicate proposed to build a system through the portion of the city laid down in their original proposition and later invade the territory of the London United company which is now controlled by the Yorker syndicate. The latest factor in the fight is the proposition before the London county council to demand a unified form of underground systems throughout the whole city. This is introduced in order to end the fight between two American syndicates which is not considered beneficial to the interests of London.

ber drilled in this state in any month that the Federals, one of whose leaders is a Wisconsin man, Hobart Bird, of Madison, were shot out at San Lorenzo where a mob attacked the police and in the fight that followed two policemen were killed and fifteen men injured. This report has been confirmed. It is also said that the rioters marched into the town carrying a corpse with them. At Patillas the federals were driven about and several badly wounded. The govern-has also been disregarded and that the federal voters were kept away

San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 30.—Incomplete returns from various parts of the island regarding the last regis-riots and shooting occurred in many towns and violence was used everywhere. Rumors that the federals were shut out at San Lorenzo, where a mob attacked the police with the result that two of the rioters were killed and fifteen men, among whom were three policemen, were desperately wounded, also are confirmed. It is added that the mob entered the town carrying a corpse at the head of the procession. The police attempted to disperse the participants in a fight at Patillas, a federal town, which was invaded by a large mob of republicans from Guayama, who forcibly took possession of the booths, shut out the federals and registered the whole of the Guayama nonresident party. In the shooting and rioting which ensued four men were wounded, including Corporal Cepero of the insular police.

Classes Have Been Abandoned at the Michigan Agricultural College, With Both Sides Firm.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 30.—There have been no classes at the agricultural college since Monday noon, the boycott instituted by the entire student body because of the suspension of seventeen of its number for precipitating a prohibited class rush being still on. The students are firm in their determination not to attend classes until the faculty rescinds its action. The students have unanimously resolved that no papers of any kind should be signed or agreement made until first submitted to and approved by the student body as a whole. A committee representing the various classes and the coeds had a protracted session with President Snyder and Dr. Marshall of the faculty, but no progress toward a settlement was made. President Snyder says there is nothing for the students to do but return to their classes or appeal to the state board of agriculture.

RED MEN WILL GET MILLIONS

Brothertown and Stockbridge Indians Entitled to Large Sums.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 30.—Congressman J. H. Davidson of this city has been notified by Washington authorities that the Secretary of the Interior has reversed his former decision and has announced that the Brothertown and Stockbridge Indians, as a part of the Six Nations, are entitled to their share of the judgment rendered by the Supreme court of the United States, the total amount of which is about $2, 000,000. The money comes to them as a result of the treaty of 1838. At that time there was granted to the Indians of the Six Nations of New York 1,321,000 acres of land in Kansas, 320 acres to each Indian in the tribes as composed at that time. For over fifty years the matter has been in litigation.
There are about 300 or 400 Indians in the tribe who are entitled to a share in the judgment. Most of them live in Calumet county, although some are on the Brothertown reservation and some in Minnesota.

E. M. Hyzer of Milwaukee spent a few hours in the city yesterday.

WILL TRY TO STOP FANATICAL MARCH

Effort Will Be Made to Get the Russian Doukhobors to Return Home.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 30.—According to dispatches received from Yorktown the reports as to the numbers of the wandering Doukhobors were largely exaggerated and the total was only eighteen hundred. It is also asserted that they with the exception of four or five cases of sickness they were well, but were fanatical to a degree as to their marching, singing and praying.

An effort will be made to get them to return to their villages and that not succeeding they will be escorted there by the mounted police. The reason for this order is that in Yorktown there is not food enough for so many and in the villages they left there is plenty. The head of the immigration says that he will care for the Douk-hobors and charge the same to the fund obtained from the sale of their cattle which they turned loose when they started their march.

WOMAN DIES THE RESULT OF BURNS

MISS PLUMB OF JOHNSTOWN CENTER, HORRIBLY BURNED.

SHE DIES IN GREAT AGONY

The Accident Happened on Tuesday Afternoon, on the Pember Farm.

Miss Plumb, a maiden lady of about fifty years of age, suffered a horrible death from burning, Tuesday afternoon. She lived with her brother, James Plumb, who is working on the Wallace Pember farm near Johnstown Center. Wallace Pember was shining the roof of the farm house at the time of the accident, and, hearing her screams, came to the rescue. He extinguished the flames which enveloped her, but was unable to save her life.

Meager Details. Few of the details of the catastrophe are known. Miss Plumb was in a room on the second floor of the house, where a fire had started in a stove. In some way her clothing must have come in contact with the flame, or been set fire to by a spark from the hot surface of the heater. At any rate when Mr. Pember heard the cries of anguish and rushed to her room, he found her clothing aflame and her flesh cruelly burned.

Horribly Burned. Meantime the flames had been communicated to the wood work of the room, and help not being near by, the conflagration would soon have been beyond control. Miss Plumb was immediately given such care as was possible, but the fire had already done its worst, and death ensued soon after, putting a merciful end to the awful torture which was being inflicted upon the unhappy woman.

How It Happened. It is said that at times Miss Plumb was not quite sound in mind, and that the accident may have occurred while she was in a partially delirious state. She had been living in rooms on the second floor of the house, and at the time of the casualty no one was near except Wallace Pember, who was on the roof of the building. The funeral was held from the home at two o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Huey officiating.

AFTER BIG GAME

The Joys of Hunting in the Woods During November.

(From Country Life in America.) In the northern woods the white carpet of snow is laid early in the month and still hunting of moose, caribou, and deer is at its best. There is now in the taking of big game the loss of the element of luck and the element of skill, patience and woodcraft, which together, yielding the successful shot, make the evening pipe in a camp a hundred-fold sweeter than any chance shot, no matter how good, earlier in the season.

Then, when the leaves still cling, and the brown carpet of the forest held no tell-tale tracks, it was either a case of shooting on the run or surprising the game in frequented haunts. Now in the light covering of frosty crystals the big buck has written the record of his night's wanderings. Easy enough to follow such a trail, you say. Ah, yes, easy, indeed! But can you follow it to a successful issue? Can you follow it in the dead silence of the heart of the great forest and give no sign to the keen ear and sensitive nose of the noble animal doubling back and watching his own trail while he rests?

Newspapers and History

Yet one cannot, from the standpoint of future history-writing, reckon the value of the newspaper of today in terms of the unwieldy bulk of its material. And despite garish coloring and distorted perspective the daily newspaper does reflect life and make history in a sense that is true of it alone; all the more, perhaps, for the emphasis it puts upon news as news and for the often absurd category of its classification. Partly because of its success and because of its imperfections, its methods have come to observe the periodical press with a surprising extent. Evidently witness of this is given by the carefully prepared paragraphs of news summary, a new familiar feature of the weekly paper largely displacing the editorial in importance. These news-summary paragraphs are extended to the occasional monthly, while the ordinary monthly magazine of miscellaneous aim surrenders an increasing space of contemporaneous subjects and to the reports and comments of men who have seen important happenings, or who have themselves a part of them. Novel and highly useful as all this "material" will prove to the historian of the future, embarrassing in its riches and long accessible (since the periodical press, weekly and monthly, is printed on durable paper) it yet can not take the place of the daily newspaper's first-hand impressions. These have a characteristic freshness, crude but realistic, that the other must lack, a quality that counts for much in determining values in a picture. As the historian of today, seeking what is vital in the past, turns from records, documents, and state papers to gossip letters and diaries—even though biased and malicious—so the historian of the future might turn from the most judicious chronicles and the most painstaking recollections to the spicy reports as they first appeared on the yellowest page of a "yellow" journal—From "The Point in View" in the Scribner's.

SPECIAL HONOR FOR MRS. PARSONS

Had Entire Charge of the Reception Committee at the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Special honor was bestowed on Mrs. Frederick Parsons last week by the several thousand women members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs who met in annual session at Toledo. Mrs. Parsons formerly resided in Janesville and is a sister of Mrs. D. W. Watt.

The meeting at Toledo was one of the largest ever held in the history of Women's clubs and was attended by not only the thousands of delegates from the state of Ohio but by prominent club women from all portions of the country.

MRS. F. PARSONS

The Toledo Blade prints the following in relation to Mrs. Parsons' position.

"Toledo club women are proud of Mrs. Frederick Parsons, chairman of the social committee, who introduced the hundreds of reception guests to Mrs. Hopley. Mrs. Parsons cultured manner and distinguished appearance were highly complimented by many of the visitors. Her plan and achievement of the social arrangement were remarkably fine, and she deserves great credit, as do her very efficient committee women.

"A brilliant function and one which will be long remembered in social and club circles was the reception at the Valentine theater. That several thousand passed the receiving line without a blockade, and that everything passed off smoothly is due to the efficiency of the reception committee under the very able leadership of Mrs. Frederick Parsons. The universal admiration of the scene, its beauty of decoration and the brilliant gowns expressed the pride of Toledoans and the appreciation of the visitors.

"The center of attraction during the entire evening was the stage. Here the line of interested club women and their escorts passed continually for over three hours. Mrs. Gilbert Harmon, local general chairman, in black, and Mrs. Frederick Parsons in pale yellow brocade and duchesse lace, introduced the guests to the receiving line, which was made up of state officers and speakers.

A Foreign Renaissance

Since the savage woman fashioned her clay vessels, wore mats, tanned skins, built wigwags and prepared her family's food and clothing, until within a generation, as many women as men have earned their own living, earned it as certainly as if they had received a definite wage. The woman beginning to earn her living in these modern days? Rather ceasing to earn it for the first time in all the ages; for man's invention has invaded her "sphere" and thrust most of her former work outside the home. She must follow it or find new substitutes at home if she is to retain a self-respecting place among the world's producers and not to be the moral degenerate which an able-bodied human being who abdicates responsibilities is destined to become. I speak here of the great number who have not talented their womanhood with the vices of the Georgian age recently revived among the new aristocracy in the land of Thomas Jefferson and honorable Abe; of women who do not pay their cigarette bills by their winnings at bridge wagers; who are still sweet and modest but in the tumult of our times, are still standing helplessly and looking on with as little perception of the meaning of the stupendous forces that are at play as had Marie Antoinette when playing milkmaid—Lucie Ames Mead in the Pilgrim for November.

FOUND TEETH ON THE STORE FLOOR

Cooksville Man Had Not Swallowed Them at All; Just Lost Them.

Some time ago it will be remembered that J. Robertson, a resident of Cooksville thought that he had swallowed his false teeth. He came to Dr. Palmer and had him look, but the doctor was unable to find them in his insides and sent him to Chicago to be photographed before an X-ray machine. Even this machine failed to find them.

The Solution. The following telegram to the X-ray photographer explains the situation:

"Teeth found on store floor. Apologize to X-rays. (Signed) 'ROBERTSON.' This telegram was received by W. C. Fuchs, whose X-ray laboratory is in the Schiller building, explained away these charges of inaccuracy that J. Robertson had made against the Roentgen rays after he had come to Chicago and had looked on a skin-graph of his own throat.

No Teeth Shown. "That doesn't show my teeth," Mr. Robertson protested. "Because they are not in your throat," replied Mr. Fuchs. "But I tell you I can feel them!" insisted Mr. Robertson, as he coughed feelingly. "Don't you suppose I know when I have swallowed my own false teeth?"

ASK QUESTIONS OF LA FOLLETTE

Beloit Lawyer Wants To Know Things J. W. Bates Writes to the Governor.

half head Governor LaFollette should be the recipient of the following letter written by J. W. Bates of Beloit on the Spooner problem. Mr. Bates is well known in Janesville and his letter on this interesting subject will be read with interest.

The Letter. "Beloit, Rock County, Wis., Oct. 28, 1902.

"To Robert M. La Follette, Oshkosh, Wis. Dear Sir:—To set at rest vague rumors, permit me to ask that you answer in your speech tonight, the following question: Has not Senator Spooner, by the record he has made, by his endorsement of the entire state ticket, sufficiently raised his voice for the principles of the republican party?"

"Your refusal to answer this question of another equivocal answer will force his friends to believe that your influence will be used for his defeat. Election day is at hand and many who at this late moment have not fully decided how to vote now await your answer or your silence.

"Among others, I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) 'J. W. BATES.'

"Potatoes and Point."

"There is going to be terrible suffering this winter among the poor in the tenement districts," said a fair settlement worker the other day to a man who sympathized with her if not with her work. "The high price of coal would be enough in itself, but food prices will be higher than usual. I don't know what they will do and my heart aches for them.

The man's heart ached, too, but not for the poor. He cuddled his brain for some idea which would help her in this East Side extremity.

"The poor folks of Quebec have a dish which is certainly cheap and which might be introduced with advantage among your unfortunates, he said, after thinking awhile.

Oh, do tell me," cried the girl, "what is it?"

"They call it 'potatoes and point.' 'Never heard of that,' she said quickly. "How is it made and what is 'point' anyway?"

"On the winter begins these French-Canadians live in a supply of As it is not well cured they suspend it from the ceiling and smoke which gets out from the cracks in the stove helps complete the process. When the winter is well along this store is usually depleted, and there is nothing or on the ceiling ladder but one or two bacon sides, which must be made to last a long time yet. Then they fall back on 'potatoes and point.'

"They boil the potatoes and place them upon the table. They take up a piece of potato on the end of their fork and point it at the bacon hanging on the roof of the kitchen, and then put the potato in their mouths and eat it. These jolly, careless people say this pointing is almost as satisfactory as eating the real bacon if one's imagination is only strong enough. That is where the point comes in."

"I think you are the most cruel, heartless man I know, to joke about such a life and death matter as this," she said, indignantly, and she did not answer his telephone calls for a week.—New York Tribune.

TUESDAY NEXT, VOTE THE TICKET

ROCK COUNTY'S REPUBLICAN LIST OF OFFICE SEEKERS.

THEY ARE ALL GOOD MEN

There is No Doubt as to the Political Faith of The Candidates.

Although not yet twenty-seven years of age James A. Brittan, the nominee for Assemblyman from the Third district, is known as one of the ablest and best posted men in Beloit, the city where he was born, and has spent his entire life. After a public

James A. Brittan, high school education, Mr. Brittan learned the trade of a machinist. At present he is employed at that occupation in the Fairbanks, Morse & Co.'s works.

His prominence in Beloit labor circles has been such that for two years he has held the office of president of the machinist union, the largest labor organization in that city of organized labor. He has also since the Trades council was organized a year ago, held the position of treasurer of that important body.

Throughout his life Mr. Brittan has been emphatically a worker, doing his duty in the workshop, the lodge room, or the union hall, and making friends among all men with whom he was thrown in contact. For seven years he has been a member of the Modern Woodmen and for four years of the Maccabees. He has always been a staunch Republican, priding himself on the fact that he has never in his life voted for a Democrat.

C. H. Weirick of Shepore, the Republican nominee for register of deeds, is a native of Rock county and is in the prime of vigorous young manhood, being in the thirty-ninth year of his life. He was born in Shepore, Rock County, Oct. 7, 1863, and has resided in his native village all of his life, winning the esteem and confidence of his fellow men by his strict integrity and upright character.

By his own exertions he obtained a good business education, at the same time being engaged in aiding his widowed mother in her attempts to raise and educate a family. In 1886 he engaged for himself in the general merchandise business, and has continued the same establishment up to the present time.

Mr. Weirick has repeatedly been honored by public office. For ten years he has been town clerk, and has since 1897 been chairman of the town board of Turtle. He has always been loyal politically to the Republican party and has refused to sacrifice As a business man of notable ability, and as a public spirited citizen of staunch integrity, Mr. Weirick is well fitted for the office to which he has been nominated. His pleasing qualities aid his more sterling virtues in making him popular and will assure him their early support of his party.

William A. Jackson the Republican nominee for District Attorney was born in this city in 1868. After graduating from the Janesville high school, he attended the University of Wisconsin, completing both the regular college and law courses, receiving his degree from the latter in 1891.

He then entered the law office of his father, A. A. Jackson, and has been associated with him in business ever since. In 1895 he was elected District Attorney and has held that office up to the present time. He has also been a member of the republican county committee for about the same period, serving for several years as secretary of the committee, having been re-elected to that office yesterday for another term.

Mr. Jackson has always been a firm republican and has been intimately connected with the interests of that party for many years. In a fraternal connections, he is a member of the Masonic order, the Odd Fellows, and The Elks, holding offices in the last.

Alexander White, the nominee for Assemblyman from the First district of Rock county, was born in Fifehire, county, Scotland, Feb. 5, 1835. In 1841 he came with his parents to this country, where he received the major part of his education in the common schools. He remained with his parents on a farm in Porter township until he married at the age of thirty, when he bought a farm for himself in the same township.

Since that time he has been engaged in agricultural pursuits, and has paid especial attention to the raising of fine cattle and has raised some Oxford Down sheep, and also some thoroughbred hogs.

Mr. White has always been an energetic and untiring citizen, ready to aid in any measure calculated to advance the public weal. For several years he held the office of Town clerk, and was also chairman of the Town board. He is a member of the masonic fraternity, being connected with the Evansville lodge, and has always been a strong Republican.

Edward Mansil, a nine-year old Manitowoc youth, has been held under $200 bonds to answer to the theft of a bicycle.

HYPNOTISTS ARE MASTERS OF ART

Despite a Wretched Audience, They Give a Good Exhibition of Their Skill.

Dr. A. D. Sill and Miss Jennie Sill gave a hypnotic exhibition at the opera house last night, which was neither better nor worse than the average of its kind. A wretched audience was in attendance and yet the Sills went on with their entire performance, giving every feature as carefully as though a crowded house were present.

In the different manifestations which were given by the two hypnotists the usual features of a performance of the kind were given with about the usual success. Especial interest was attached to the work of Miss Sill in the fact that she is the first woman hypnotist who has appeared on the local stage. The Sills are to be here two nights longer, and the general opinion of those who saw them last evening was that they are deserving of patronage.

Lovers' Lane
 "Lovers' Lane," by Clyde Fitch, is to be given at the Myers Grand on Monday, Nov. 5. This is the now famous New England comedy which divided an entire year between three large cities, including a fourteen weeks' run in Philadelphia and which has done such an enormous business in Atlantic City during the past month. For its local presentation Wm. A. Brady will send the original company and the entire scenic investment, including the delightful pictures of an apple orchard with real trees.

on society. In point of continuous representation "Lovers' Lane" established a new record when it was played for 70 consecutive weeks. The new season will continue even longer, as it goes right through the summer of 1903.

first in the fading foliage of autumn and later in the fragrant blossoms of springtime. A play of great good cheer and wholesome mirth is "Lovers' Lane." It goes straight to the heart, delights the old and the young alike, and is essentially a sound, merry home play, bringing out the poetry and pathos, as well as the humor of plain people in a humdrum small town. Clyde Fitch has written 35 successful plays, but it is significant that his largest royalties have been drawn from a comedy of the village street and the orchard, rather than from a drama of romanticism or a satire upon world, and it always has its hand on the pulse of finance. The late stringency in Wall street, while not resulting in a serious panic, was far reaching, and while Secretary Shaw of the United States treasury, came promptly to the relief, by methods that have been criticized, to greater or less extent, the trouble was not entirely averted, and more or less measures still exist.

The balance of trade as a nation is against us, because we have been compelled to buy so much abroad and as a result American gold is going to Great Britain in liberal quantity, at a time when every dollar is needed at home to move the crops, and meet the legitimate demands of trade. Many millions of American money is also tied up in outside speculation, and all sorts of visionary schemes have been prompted at the expense of business.

Henry Clews, the Wall street banker, and one of the great conservative financiers is casting about for other causes that may have contributed to existing conditions, finds that profit share shrinking and while the volume of business is maintained, that capital invested in many lines is not remunerative.

While he takes a hopeful view of the situation, and argues that the new year may regulate traffic and produce normal conditions, yet he advises conservative methods. The advice is good and if generally observed, will tend to prolong the unprecedented era of prosperity through which the nation is passing. There is bound to be a hereafter, and it is wise to prepare for it.

Mr. Clews says in part: "With anxiety concerning the strike and the monetary outlook removed, the list of stimulating features ends. It is true that general business continues active and large in volume, with no prospect of immediate diminution. But a striking feature of business today in nearly all lines is declining profits. As already shown in these articles, net profits for both industrial and railroad are beginning to shrink owing to increased cost of raw materials and labor. The same is true in many other lines of business whose securities are not dealt in on the Stock Exchange. Should this tendency continue it means a curtailment in the purchasing powers of the wealthy classes, which in turn will reduce the consumption of many commodities, especially luxuries. Perhaps this tendency is only temporary, and such it is hoped will be the case, but there are only too many suggestions strengthening the impression that a partial reaction from the high tide of prosperity is now upon us. Not the least indication has been the unfavorable turn in our foreign trade during the past year. High prices here have greatly stimulated imports and exports; the result being to greatly diminish the favorable balance of trade which existed two years ago, and render possible the talk of gold exports, which now tends to make Wall street hesitate, not so much from the actual as from the moral effect of our being compelled to ship gold when the banks are endeavoring to strengthen their resources. Exports of wheat, corn and cotton are all impeded at present by the fact that American holders demand prices that European buyers will not pay, and even extraordinary low outward freights are not sufficient to move these products from our seaboard with desired freedom. Other evidences of a reactionary tendency could be cited, but enough have been presented to warrant a conservative attitude towards the future until some sort of readjustment has taken place which will encourage a fresh movement."

A FABLE

Once upon a time there was a man who lived in a far-away country that had an Indian name. He had conceived the idea that he was great and better than his fellow workers and would sit and pose and tell them how big a man he was and how much bigger than other men, who really were bigger than he was, were. As a small boy he had played with other boys and had always bossed them around. Some how or other they liked it and when he would talk to them like an old man they believed him and let him do as he pleased. So and so he grew up and went among the makers of the laws of this tribe and told them that he was very wise. He jollied them so and was so persuasive that they believed him and sent him on a long journey to make the laws. But this little man still tried to boss and then the other fellows got mad and he went back home. One redeeming feature of this man was that he never knew when he was beaten. So after he had been told to be quiet he went back and sat still for a long time. He thought and thought and then he reached a plan how he was to become great again and finally he told it to two or three friends and they thought it was a great one. Then he started out to make those old men of his tribe to look like thirty cents. The first time he tried they made him look like a Uteeda biscuit that had been in the rain but he was ready again to set in with a vim to try and capture the whole cheese and fix those guys who had downed him. This time they gave him a gentle shove and he felt the "push" coming against him so he sat down for a while longer. The third time he was a howling success and when they figured up the votes they found that over half the whole tribe had voted for him just because the "guy" on the other side was good. This made the fellow feel so big that he went out and told the rest of the fellows to be good and do as he said and they could all watch him run through to suit himself. He did this for some time but his way of running and bossing was not as pleasant as that of a school teacher who don't know all the tricks of a tricky scholar and they kicked. Some of them said some real mean things about this fellow and he felt bad. Then he went out and got a lot of the other tribe to come and help him and with his whole gang back at him he tried to be the boss mucker of the whole shebang. He even went and told the rest of the "guys" to go chase themselves and that they did not belong to the tribe any more. This made them so mad that they got up and stood on their hind legs and howled with anger. But the fellow only laughed and said, "That will hold you for a while." And went on playing he was it. Then these other guys said we are the silent members of this firm and we will draw our money out and let the old thing go bust and they did. Then this big little guy what had said, "Give the goodbye," to all his pals just sat down and cried for "fair" for he knew he wasn't worth the salt to blow him into the lake and he knew it. Then he saw how much a "duce" spot he was and no mistake and what other cards he might have played and settled him for keeps. Moral: Can you see one?

HOW TO VOTE

The Gazette is besieged with inquiries as how to vote a split ticket. The paper has never had any experience in voting this kind of a ticket, but the Australian ballot places opposite or under each name on the ticket a small square and over the head of each list of party candidates a larger square. A cross in the large square means a straight vote for every candidate whose name appears below the square, and this single mark which all good republicans are in the habit of using, is a vote for the straight ticket.

Many men this year refuse to listen to argument, and are fully determined to vote a split ticket and they desire to do so intelligently and make no mistakes.

To vote a split ticket means to ignore the large square at the head of the list of party candidates and place a cross under every name on the ticket, for whom the voter desires to vote. If a man wants to vote for the candidates on the republican ticket and for the legislative and county candidates on the democratic ticket, he makes a cross in the small square under the name of each candidate on the republican state ticket and then goes down to the democratic column and marks the names of all the candidates for whom he desires to vote on that ticket. If a republican is determined to vote the democratic state ticket, and the balance of the republican ticket, he simply reverses the order. A straight party vote is the most simple and by far the most consistent.

Have you seen the illuminated dial of the new city clock? It is of immense value to the people across the street, and it is worth a street car fare to any tax payer to go out and view his monument by candle light and be assured of the fact that every thing is running on time. When the striker is added it will increase the value, also the tax, but who cares. The clock is incomplete without a clapper.

Saturday next the "Badgers and the Wolverines" will meet on the gridiron for the supremacy of the foot ball championship. Like the Roman gladiators of old they will be cheered on by an admiring throng and woe be to the "Badgers" if they do not come out victorious.

Janesville will not hear Congressman Cooper this fall. He tried to come but his dates and those of the opera house did not connect and he was forced to pass Janesville by. Well, he will get the same majority as he did before even if he does not come.

Patriotism does not always have to come in the time of war. It comes sometimes when a man stands up for his political party after having been read out of it at a democratic state convention and later having been told to be a good boy and bow low to the would be dictator of all.

The coal operators will not show the strike commission their books. May be they are ashamed to show what small profits they have been making for fear the commission would insist upon appointing receivers.

Americans who have made money and then look for title are justly repaid by the startling disclosures of the Austrian who says was arrested for forging titles. He says the Americans were the easiest of all his customers.

The Boer generals are more than pleased to know what Colonial Secretary Chamberlain is going to the Transvaal to investigate things for himself. Now they look for justice to follow.

Northwestern co-eds are to be divided from their dearly beloved fellow students who wear coats and vests. Too bad to think that the hearts of both will be broken and their educations ruined.

Once in a while the best of leaders make a blunder and then defeat is liable to follow unless his subordinates are very brave and fight all the harder.

After years of service, working for the welfare of your party, it is pretty hard to be read out of it by a boy who was in swaddling clothes when you started out as a man.

Next Tuesday is election day. Next Wednesday will be a day of rejoicing or a day of mourning for some people.

It is a mighty poor man who cannot find some men to stick up for his idiosyncrasies. That is, if they are paid to do it.

When a man becomes greater than his party then his wings should be looked to or his head examined.

Harmony means peace. It does not mean that the power of one man shall be supreme.

Over-confidence begets carelessness. Carelessness begets defeat and defeat begets oblivion.

Still Senator Spooner helps the good cause along by continuing his speeches.

Every "Boss" has his day and some "Bosses" are shorter than others.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Journal: Only one week more, but such a one!

Milwaukee Journal: They say that money talks. These political times we are rather more of the opinion that it is wine that talks.

Chicago Tribune: D. B. Hill is not using the right kind of cement in his attempt to patch that old puncture in his political tire.

Kansas City Journal: The condemnation of kissing by the homeopathic doctors may be due to the fact that kissing is usually done on the allopathic plan.

Chicago Record-Herald: A New Jersey man tried to cure an anarchist by whipping him. That's a foolish way and unnecessarily exhausting when soap and water are so cheap.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Senator Spooner has indorced the governor without an "if" and the latter owes it to the people to regard their expressed wishes by taking the same course in regard to the senator's re-election.

Minneapolis Times: Commissioner Jones says the Sioux Indians of the Pine Ridge agency are working hard and having their hair cut with charming regularity. Is the millennium approaching?

La Crosse Republican and Leader: The abrupt defiance and rejection of the candidacy of Senator Spooner at Appleton Saturday afternoon by Governor LaFollette, if the senior senator did not openly indorse the state platform, has created a sensation. If the dispatch giving such information is true, it will cost the governor thousands of good republican votes.

Marquette Eagle: The citizens of Wisconsin and of the nation need not fear that Senator Spooner will fail of re-election because the governor refuses to personally urge his re-election except under impossible conditions. The great majority of republican legislators and state senators nominated are pledged to vote for the senator's return to Washington.

Racine Times: There will be, without doubt, among republicans generally, whether they approve of LaFollette's views on state questions or not, a disposition to allow Senator Spooner a certain latitude of opinion with reference to local issues and the privilege of adhering to his convictions, whatever they may be.

Beloit Free Press: Whatever other counties may do, stalwart old Rock will be represented in the next legislature by a delegation consisting of one senator and three assemblymen who will be found staunch and true in promoting the re-election of Senator Spooner. Senator Whitehead will be tower of strength, and Assemblymen White, Valentine and Brittan—all republicans from the ground up—will always be found faithful champions of the best interests of the republican party.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: One hunter predicts a mild winter, because the coons are going into winter quarters with little fat concealed beneath their hides, while another hunter predicts a hard winter because the shells of the acorn are tough and because woodchucks are crawling into the burrows for their winter sleep with thick fur and before real frosts have begun. People who are not weather prophets believe the winter will be a hard one only for those who fail to get enough fuel to make themselves comfortable.

Portage Register: It seems to us the governor missed an opportunity to do his share towards the unification of the party in making this answer to the query. Senator Spooner, who is a greater man than Governor LaFollette, has not qualified his urgent request to the people to vote for the state ticket; he has been magnanimous and has passed over the slight to himself in the state platform. The governor could easily have "raised his voice" without stultifying himself and to have done so would have been the one thing needed to cement the party. The effect of this reply will not defeat Senator Spooner, but it may prevent his nomination from being unanimous. Another effect to be observed today is that the governor's best friends are grieved that he should have been so ungenerous toward Spooner who has shown himself so generous toward him.

The Asphalt Pave

They took a little gravel
 And they took a little tar
 With various ingredients
 Imported from afar.
 They hammered it and rolled it
 And when they went away
 They said they had a pavement
 That would last for many a day.

But they came with picks and smote it
 To lay a water main;
 And then they called the workmen
 To put it back again.
 To run a railway cable
 They took it up some more;
 And then they put it back again
 Just where it was before.

They took it up for conduits
 To run the telephone;
 And then they put it back again
 As hard as any stone.
 They took it up for wires
 To feed the electric light,
 And then they put it back again
 Which was no more than right.

Oh, the pavements full of furrows;
 There are patches everywhere.
 You'd like to ride upon it.
 But it's seldom that you dare.
 It's a very handsome pavement;
 A credit to the town;
 They're always of dign' of it up
 Or puttin' of it down.

CHINESE SMUGGLER IS NERVOY

Steward on Coast Survey Vessel Brings Countryman and Opium.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—Eighty pounds of opium which a Chinese steward on the coast survey steamer Gedney will be charged with attempting to smuggle from Victoria to Seattle was seized aboard the cutter by customs inspectors. Eight parcels, worth $1,024, were found in the steward's department. Gong Gee, the steward, is in jail awaiting trial for attempting to smuggle a countryman between the same points on the same voyage. A strange feature is the smuggler's audacity in selecting a government vessel for smuggling.

TO BANQUET ITS FOOTBALL TEAM

SENIOR CLASS PLANS FOR PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT.

HOPE TO WIN DENISON TROPHY

Elaborate Arrangements Begun for a Class Banquet, Reception and Dancing Party.

At a meeting of the Senior class of the Janesville high school held at the close of the afternoon session yesterday, it was unanimously voted by the class, to give a banquet, reception and dancing party in honor of the class football team. Of course the enthusiastic seniors hope that the banquet will also be a jubilee celebration over the winning of the school championship and the Denison trophy but whether the Senior class team wins or loses, the class intends to express its appreciation of the work which the athletes have done on the gridiron this season. The decision to give the banquet before the championship is decided is evidence of the loyalty of the Senior class to its football heroes.

Hope For Championship
The championship contest is rapidly narrowing down and while the Senior, Sophomore and Freshman teams all have victories to their credit and no defeats it is universally conceded that the championship rests between the Senior and Sophomore teams.

The first game in the series was played October 12 between the Juniors and the Sophomores, the latter being the victors by a score of 5 to 0. The next game, October 19, between the Juniors and the Freshmen resulted in a tie, 3 to 3, and when time was called on the second game between these two teams, the score was the same, 5 to 5. By agreement the game was continued until another touchdown was secured, the victory going to the Freshmen by a score of 10 to 5.

The Decisive Game
On Wednesday, Oct. 22, the Seniors defeated the Juniors by a score of 27 to 0. By the comparison of the above scores the Seniors estimate that championship honors are due to come their way. Nevertheless, they realize that the Sophomore class team stands as a formidable foe in their way to victory and great interest is being taken in the Senior-Sophomore game which is to be played on next Wednesday. It is regarded as too decisive game of the series.

No definite date has been set for the banquet but it will be held soon after Thanksgiving and the close of the football season. One of the local dance halls will be secured and the banquet will be served at six o'clock, the reception and dancing following at eight o'clock.

Guests of Honor
The guests of honor at the banquet will include Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Denison, Supr. and Mrs. H. C. Buell, members of the high school faculty, the Senior class football team, the High school first team and its mascot, Chester Morse. The Seniors also decided to invite all the members of the High school to join in the dance which will follow the banquet, the only condition being that these students in the under classes pay fifty cents a couple for the dancing privilege.

The Committee
The class appointed a general committee of arrangements consisting of: Kramer Doty, Elizabeth McKee, Harold Hall, Josephine Fenton and Harry Derr. Each member of this committee will serve as chairman of a sub-committee to be appointed by the general committee. The banquet to the football boys will be made the great social event of the year for the Seniors and those who remember the brilliant success of the similar banquet given by this class last year are anticipating the event with much pleasure.

IMMENSE BOILER IS BEING PLACED

Janesville Machine Company is Adding to the Equipment of Its Plant.

E. T. Fish is now placing the new boiler which arrived in the city yesterday for the Janesville Machine company. It is a large boiler of the internal furnace type, and was manufactured by Freeman & Sons of Racine. It belongs to the same class as the boilers in the Barb Wire Works, Woolen Mills, and Cement Port factory. It is cylindrical in shape with the furnace within the outer casing, or in this case there are two of these furnaces.

A Large Boiler
This boiler, which is now being put in weights fifty thousand pounds and is twelve feet in diameter and in both length and diameter measures twelve feet. It has a capacity of three hundred horse power, and will sustain a pressure of one hundred and thirty pounds to the square inch.

This boiler completes the new power plant, the engine of which was put in a short time ago. It is a Hamilton-Corliss engine of three hundred horse power. It has a cylinder of twenty by forty-eight inches and a four foot stroke.

Talked Conservatively
In speaking of the recent changes, Superintendent Cobb, of the Janesville Machine Works, said this morning that it was nonsense to refer to the power plant now installed as one of the best in the state, or to the business of the plant as immense. Such statements would simply make the company the laughing stock of the state.

He said, however, that the power plant, when completed, can be accurately spoken of as one of the largest if not the largest in this city. In referring to the plant in general he said that it was now doing a good substantial business which was steadily increasing. To speak in such terms, he said, would be absolutely accurate, while the more extravagant words of praise would so far overshoot the mark as to make them ridiculous.

TROUBLE OVER COAL PURCHASE

CHARGES OF SHORT WEIGHT ARE QUITE FREQUENT.

COMPLAINTS OF FRAUD MADE

Linford Lawrence is One of the Victims of a Mistake or Dishonesty.

Ever since the effect of the anthracite strike first reached Janesville in the shape of an elevated scale of coal prices, it has been a custom among a number of buyers to request the men who deliver their orders from the coal companies to stop at the city scales on their way. It is said that on a number of occasions the result has not verified the figures given at the coal yards. An instance where this occurred has recently been more generally talked of than it was at the time that it happened.

Two weeks ago last Monday, Linford Lawrence, the engineer at the Barb Wire works, ordered a ton and a half of coal from a local dealer. When it was delivered Mr. Lawrence weighed it and found, so he said, that it was one hundred and fifty-eight pounds short of a ton and a half.

Accused Him of Fraud
He immediately accused the dealer of attempting to cheat him of a part of the coal for which he had paid. After a lengthy discussion in which it is reported that the trader dealer urged his accuser to leave this world for a region where coal is unneeded—although Mr. Lawrence denies this—the matter was settled by sending a sack of coal containing one hundred and sixty pounds. This more than brought up the alleged shortage.

In the course of the argument, it was claimed the coal had not been weighed at all, and everyone in the coal yard denied taking the weight, but a letter was afterwards written by the dealer saying that it had been found that a boy had been at the scales and had weighed the load.

Says He Settled
On being asked about the matter this morning, the dealer says that if Lawrence wished to do anything more about the matter, he would fight him to the end. He said that he had settled the claim that was due, although he had refused to give the ton and a half of coal which Lawrence had demanded. It seems that Lawrence had asked that the dealer square up the mistake or dishonest weight, whichever it was, by a ton and a half of coal, and this the dealer strongly refused to do.

It is said that this is only a single case of this kind, and that other dealers have made similar mistakes, and that some of the suffering parties have become so wrought that they intend to bring the matter to court. One person makes the assertion that on a ton of coal which he purchased from a local dealer, there was a shortage of five hundred pounds.

MORTGAGE SALE AT MILTON JUNCTION

Wallace Cochran is Conducting It and C. W. Reeder is Caring for Client's Interests.

Under Sheriff Wallace Cochran is at Milton Junction today holding a chattel mortgage sale. C. W. Reeder is also in Milton Junction as attorney for Mrs. May Spence whose goods are being sold. The amount of the mortgage was not yet due but it was foreclosed before the time had expired because the security was regarded by Ralph Richardson, who is foreclosing the mortgage, as insufficient.

Among the goods that are to be sold at auction are fifty head of cattle, one hundred hogs, seven horses, a quantity of farm machinery and forty acres of corn. The amount of the mortgage is eight hundred dollars.

CHURCH WEDDING A PRETTY AFFAIR

Nuptials of Miss Ida Buhling and Frank Schwankey Witnessed by a Large Company.

St. Paul's German Lutheran church was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening at 7 o'clock when Miss Ida Buhling and Frank A. Schwankey, both of this city, were happily united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. J. Koerner in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends of the contracting parties, the church being crowded to its fullest capacity.

The bride party entered the church to the music of the chimes and the wedding march played on the organ. The bride, who was handsomely attired in a gown of blue silk, carrying a large bouquet of roses, was attended by Miss Freda Zimmerman, cousin of the groom, in a cream silk gown and by Miss Lizzie Berger. The groom's attendants were Albert Bahr and Paul Buhling, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served to a large company of relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents, 257 Linn street. Both bride and groom are well known in this city and have many friends who will wish them the enjoyment of a long life of uninterrupted happiness. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwankey, 412 South Franklin street, and is employed as a painter for the Janesville Carriage company. He is an industrious and energetic young man and he and his bride will begin housekeeping at once in their prettily furnished home at 450 South Franklin street.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Office of the County Clerk, October 27, 1902.

To The Electors of Rock County:
Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 4th day of Nov., 1902, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If it be a general election these words are to follow:
The voter if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark X under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a cross mark be placed in the square under the name or names of the candidates in another column, and will be counted for any name written in lieu of one erased. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memoranda to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

FALLING BRICKS STRIKE MILITIA

BLAME LAID ON THE WORKERS

Officers Endeavor to Get Shot at Men On Top of High Structure, but Attempt Is Fruitless—Say It Was Accident.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 30.—The Fourteenth regiment, Pennsylvania National guards, returning from strike duty in the anthracite coal fields, was attacked by workmen, who, from the twenty-first story of the Farmers' bank skyscraper, hurled bricks, heavy pieces of wood, and concrete down upon the soldiers, and for a few moments threw the entire regiment into disorder.

The suddenness of the attack threw two companies of the regiment and the band into panic, which spread through the crowds that packed the narrow thoroughfare. Soldiers were felled to the ground by the missiles.

Try to Shoot Offenders.

Officers sprang to the sidewalk, and raising their revolvers, sought an opportunity to shoot the men who were bombarding their men. The privates followed their example and in an instant scores of rifles were pointed upward. The men on the top of the new skyscraper fled across the building for shelter, and after a time the regiment reformed and marched on.

The officers of the regiment had just reached the building when a shower of bricks, heavy pieces of scuttling, iron and concrete began to fall. The regimental band caught the great force of the attack. Half a dozen men were knocked down and many instruments were broken.

Disorder Prevails.

In a moment the panic stricken crowd on the sidewalks began to push in upon the soldiers, and the men, breaking ranks, scrambled around in wild disorder, seeking an opportunity to get at their assailants.

The officers screamed orders in vain. The crowd had broken through the ranks and the wildest disorder ensued.

Major Harry D. Fowler was hit on the shoulder by a scuttling. He sprang to the sidewalk and, drawing his revolver, pointed it at the men on the top of the new building. All along the street the men raised their rifles to get a shot at the attacking workmen, who fled to places of safety. The officers then reformed the broken companies and marched them on to the armory.

Endangers Many Lives.

After the troops reached the armory Major Fowler returned to the building to investigate. At least fifty pieces of the debris were hurled from the top of the building to the street below. Admission to the building was denied everybody, and no person seemed able to account for the act of the workmen. They not only endangered the lives of the soldiers but also of hundreds of persons on the streets and pavements.

The men claim they had been raising a stinging and some of the debris fell into the street.

No one has been found yet who can identify the men responsible. At the great distance it was impossible to recognize faces.

A LARGE FUNERAL FOR MILO THAYER

Members of the A. O. U. W. Lodge Serve as Escort for Their Deceased Brother.

There was an exceptionally large attendance at the funeral of the late Milo M. Thayer, which was held from the home on West High street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Many friends, who had known and esteemed the young man during his life, assembled at the home and Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, A. O. U. W. was present in an organization.

The brief service was impressively conducted by Rev. Robert C. Demson, pastor of the Congregational church, and appropriate vocal selections were tendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. C. F. Yates, Mrs. Fanny Gurn, C. N. Vankirk and George G. Paris. There was a wealth of beautiful floral offerings, among the special designs being one bearing the words, "Olive Branch Lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W." in choice cut flowers. A large star and crescent standing four feet high was the tribute from several of Mr. Thayer's most intimate friends.

At the close of the service the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the Ancient Order of United Workmen, marching as an escort for the funeral car. The pall bearers were all members of Olive Branch Lodge, being George E. Tanberg, Ed. O. Smith, B. L. Durwiddle, George H. Robinson, Philip Ohlweiler and Joseph Leightner.

ATHENA CLASS HAS SOCIAL MEETING

Members Hold a Charming Luncheon at the Home of Mrs. Lee Beers.

Twenty-one members of the Athena class enjoyed a social meeting and a 1:30 o'clock luncheon at the suburban home of Mrs. Lee Beers yesterday afternoon. The two-course luncheon, which was furnished by the members of the class was very prettily and informally served and was of delicious quality.

Interesting guessing games formed the chief amusement for the afternoon. The most novel was the selection of articles to fit a list of books accompanied by the names of the authors, the prize being won by Mrs. J. T. Henderson, who was right in all but two of her guesses. Another contest, which was especially amusing followed. The ladies closed their eyes and four of the number were sent from the room. Then the balance were to tell what four were missing and to give descriptions of the absent ladies. The results were exceedingly laughable and in the majority of cases were very far from the facts.

This was the first social gathering of the year for the Athena class and two additional ones are scheduled to take place as a pleasant part of the year's program.
